

2019 Miscellaneous, Italy Food

A historic name, a leader in the production of chocolate and confectionery machinery. This company has a range of equipment from the production and processing of raw materials to packaging.

Tempco's solutions focus on the production and processing of chocolate, with a range of machines and exchangers for temperature control in the various stages of processing, conching, refining and moulding.

The design of the control units was always customised to suit the dimensional and technological requirements of the customer.